IIIBF 2nd Seminar Held On 26th July, 2012

The second (2nd) seminar of the newly established International Institute of Islamic Banking and Finance was held on 26th July, 2012. The paper titled, Attainment of Maqasid Al Sahri’ah through BBA Home Financing: A critical Appraisal was presented by Muhammad Ibrahim Abdullahi from Economics Department.

The acronym used in the paper BBA refers to Bay' Bithamanin Ajil, which is an Islamic mode of home financing most widely practiced by Islamic banks, especially in the South-Eastern part of the world. It is an Islamic alternative to the conventional mortgage loan. BBA literacy means deferred payment sale where the payment of the price of an object of sale is deferred and payable at a certain particular time in future.

The paper argues that while some scholars see BBA home financing as a means of improving the welfare of Muslims and Muslims alike, others perceive it as detrimental to clients/customers in particular and society in general. The Paper explored the theory and practice of BBA home financing contract, and assessed its welfare effects on the Muslim society. The paper equally cited relevant theoretical and jurisprudential issues and evidence from both the literature and Islamic sources of the Shari'ah.

The paper concluded that the form of BBA contract is Shari'ah compatible; however, some practices of BBA home financing contracts adversely affect the attainment of Maqasid Shari'ah.

It therefore recommended among others possessing an object of sale (the home) by the banks before it enters into contract, the use of Istisna contract in case of unconstructed homes and that Islamic banks should review their profits charges benchmark and integrate charitable institutions to ease the burden on customers.

Twenty six (26) persons were in attendance, including external participants and staff of the Jaiz Bank Plc, Kano Branch.
