Two BUK Senior Academics Join Buhari's Team...

- Prof. Radda to Serve in Anti-graft Committee,
- Prof. U.G. Dambatta Now CEO, NCC

Two Bayero University senior academics, Professor Sadiq Isah Radda and Professor Umar Garba Dambatta were recently appointed by President Muhammadu Buhari to assist the administration in its determined efforts to bring the desired change in managing the affairs of the country.

Professor Radda was appointed to serve in a seven-man Presidential Advisory Committee against Corruption. A Professor of Criminology, Professor Radda is the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Administration) at the Bayero University, Kano.

He began his teaching career in Bayero University, Kano in 1990 and through dint of hard work and perseverance was promoted to the rank of Professor of Criminology in 2011.

An erudite scholar, Professor Radda combined scholarship with labour activism and had since carved a niche for himself as the voice of the voiceless and the defender of the defenceless.

Professor Radda has held several academic and administrative leadership positions such as Head of Department of Sociology and Dean, Faculty of Social and Management Science and Postgraduate School, as well as chairmanship of several University committees before his elevation to the position of DVC.

Professor Umar Garba Dambatta on the other hand was appointed Vice-President and Chief Executive Officer of National Communications Commission (NCC). A former Dean of the Faculty of Engineering, and Director, Centre for Information Technology, his appointment is for a five-year term in the first instance.

A Professor of Electrical Engineering, U.G. Dambatta was the Commission's Digital Bridge Institute (DBI) former Vice-President in charge of Kano Campus. He held the position from 2008 to 2013.

The new NCC Vice-President and CEO began his teaching career at the Bayero University, Kano in 1985. Through dint of scholarship and hard work, U.G. Dambatta became the Head of the Department of Electrical Engineering in 1997 and a year later, 1998 he was appointed the Dean of the Faculty of Engineering.

In the year 2000, he was appointed chairman of a 12-man Kano State Implementation Committee for the take-off of the State University - Kano University of Science and Technology, Wudil. One year later, in 2001 and owing to his committee's successful steering of the Implementation Committee, the then State Governor, Alhaji Rabiu Musa Kwankwaso appointed him the University's Deputy Vice-Chancellor.

U. G. Dambatta was promoted to the prestigious rank of Professor of Electrical Engineering in 2005 and in 2007 he was appointed Director of BUK's Centre for Information Technology (CIT), a position he held until 2008 when NCC appointed him its Digital Bridge Institute (DBI) Kano Campus Vice-President.

Professor U.G. Dambatta returned to Bayero University in 2013 after the expiration of his tenure as DBI Vice-President.

Prof. Rasheed Receives Standing Ovation at Valedictory Senate Meeting

The outgoing Vice Chancellor, Professor Abubakar Rasheed received a rapturous standing ovation from the Senate members when he read his valedictory speech as Chairman at the Senate Chambers on Wednesday, 12th August, 2015.

The meeting, which was scheduled to hold at 10:00am witnessed a large turn-out of members, including three former Vice Chancellors, Professor Emirati Dandatti Abdulkadir, and Sani Zahraddeen as well as Professor Attahiru Jega. Also in attendance were former Minister of Education, Professor Ruqayyatu Ahmed Rufa'i, former JAMB Executive Secretary, Professor Bello Salim and ASUU National President, Dr. Nasir Isa Fagge.

Shortly after reading his valedictory address, the entire members stood up and gave him a standing ovation in appreciation and recognition of the enormous achievements recorded by the university within the five 5-year spell he served as Vice Chancellor. He said he had fulfilled all the eight pledges he made in 2010 when he took the mantle of leadership as 9th Vice Chancellor.

Professor Rasheed, who tagged his address as "Turning Possibilities into Realities", said the university had strengthened and reactivated statutory and non statutory committees and given them a facelift.

He explained that an unparalleled human development was recorded in the last few years in that the number of academic staff increased from 600 to 1467 and the number of technologists increased to 280, while the number of senior professional staff now stands at over 800.

Prof. Rasheed told the Senate that his pledge to restructure the Registry Department was a complete success as four new Directorates under the Registrar were established and are now fully functional. He said the development has made the Registry more efficient and effective.

The outgoing Vice Chancellor also explained to the Senate the breakthrough recorded in terms of security of lives and property, sustainable relationship with all the university unions, collaborations with international research institutes and organizations, as well as municipal services.

Prof. Rasheed commended the Senate members for their understanding and commitment to the BUK project. He said it was gratifying to note that the Senate had never rejected or turned down his memos in the last five years, a feat he described as "absolutely remarkable."

While expressing appreciation to the members of the Senate for their support in recording the laudable achievements, Professor Rasheed enjoined them to extend the hands of fellowship to his successor, Professor Yahuza Bello, who is expected to assume on 18th August, 2015.

He prayed Allah to assist the new VC and guide him in all his future assignments.

Many members of the Senate extolled the virtues of the outgoing VC, Prof Rasheed and made inspirational remarks on him because of his transformation agenda that turned around the University within few years. They prayed Allah to uplift his career in his future assignments. They also expressed their happiness over his successor, whom they described as workaholic and someone who is expected to step in his shoes and even surpass his achievements for the betterment of the university.

BUK, Emirate Council Raise Social Reform Committee

Bayero University Kano (BUK) in collaboration with the Kano Emirate Council has set up a committee that will look into some social problems facing the society with a view to finding workable solutions in line with the Divine injunctions.

The 25-man main committee which comprises of religious scholars, members of the academia, technocrats, and opinion leaders is headed by the grand Imam of Kano, Emeritus Professor Muhammad Sani Zahraddeen has three sub committees: Marriage/ Divorce, Zakkat/Economic Empowerment and Education.

Speaking during the inauguration of the committee at the University's Senate Chamber, on Saturday, 8th August, 2015, the Emir of Kano, Muhammadu Sanusi II charged the members to identify contemporary problems and to study and interpret the teaching of Islam in the context of the intellectual and scientific progress of modern society.

The Emir, who expressed regret at the high rate of divorce, drug abuse, illiteracy and poverty in the society, urged the committee to conduct deep research on these social vices and other problems facing the contemporary generation and come up with possible ways with a view to facilitating moral rebirth in the state.

He said the state in particular and Nigeria in general needed to have policies that would take care of girl-child education, economic empowerment and marital issues; payment of taxation/development levies as well as self dependent among others which he regrettably said were common phenomena that contributed to the backwardness of our society.

"The need for our scholars both in the academia and outside to look at these problems critically and come up with a solution for government to enact laws that will have direct impact on the lives of our people is long overdue," said the Emir. In particular, he said, the committee should as a matter of serious concern advise government on an age limit for marriage girls, issue of dowry as well as making divorce stringent in order to checkmate the reckless cases of divorce in the society.

Emir Muhammadu Sanusi II stressed that Muslims are known to be supportive of one another, very hardworking and self reliant, so building on this, he said the committee should assist the government by suggesting additional means and ways of income generation not necessarily relying on federation allocation alone.

According to him, Muslims are not supposed to be backward, as history had shown that majority of the ancient philosophers and scholars were Muslims, citing references of scholars in Medicine, Mathematics, Law, Philosophy, who were all Muslim scholars such as Muhammad Ibn Alkawarith and Ibn Sina whose contributions in Mathematics and Medicine among others, laid the foundation of their profession till date.

The Emir explained that Muslims should strive hard to go along with modernity and civilization, explaining that by engaging in research, we should be able to be carried along saying, "Muslims should not be seen as a primitive group in the fast lane of modernization just as they should not also allow modernity to disengage them from their religion."

He commended the management of Bayero University for this noble project, which he said would be of tremendous benefit to the Nigerian state. Emir Muhammadu Sanusi II, said his doors will forever remain open to render any form of financial and moral support to any cause that would impact positively on the lives of the citizenry.

Speaking earlier, the Vice Chancellor of Bayero University, Professor Abubakar Adamu Rasheed mni, MFR, said the idea of setting up the committee on Kano Social Reforms was conceptualised sometimes last year at a round table discussion among the University teachers with Emir Sanusi in attendance.

He said the University, as a centre for research and innovation is committed to engaging in deep research on any issue affecting the society as well as proffering solutions, hence, the decision to develop this noble social reform committee project.

The Vice Chancellor further expressed gratitude and appreciation to the Emir for his immense support and assistance to the University.

The Pro-Chancellor, Mahmud Yayale Ahmad (Ajiyan Katagum) commended Emir Sanusi for supporting the University.

Also speaking, the Governor of Kano State, Dr. Abdullahi Umar Ganduje, said the state government would welcome any idea and policy that would further improve the living standard of the populace just as he disclosed that plans are underway by the government to regulate the activities of preachers in the state.

Many Islamic scholars including the Secretary General of Supreme Council for Islamic Affairs, Professor Ishaq Oloyede, Malam Ibrahim Khalil, AbdulWahab Abdullahi, Dr. Bahir Aliyu Umar among others all spoke on the need for Muslims to strengthen their unity, change their attitudes, be self reliant and above all give special attention to acquiring knowledge and its application for the benefit of humanity.

Bayero University Mother to Nigerian Universities - Gov. Ganduje

The Governor of Kano State, Dr. Abdullahi Umar Ganduje has described Bayero University as mother to all Universities in the country, saying it was the only University with almost all its former Vice Chancellors still serving and contributing to its development.

Declaring open a three-day international conference on 'The Qur'an: Past, Present and the Future' in honour of Khalifah Ishaq Rabi'u (Khadimul Qur'an) on Thursday, 13th August, 2015 at Musa Abdullahi Auditorium, he said the out-going Vice Chancellor, Professor Abubakar Adamu Rasheed will also join the former Vice Chancellors next week to further provide additional impetus to the development of the University, since a new Vice Chancellor would take over from him.

He said Bayero University for decades had been keeping to its mission and vision, sustaining programmes and developments; explaining also that Khalifa Ishaq Rabi'u, honoured by the University, is himself an institution, going by his investment and legacies on service to Islam, establishing schools, mosques, endowments as well as institutionalising his children and grandchildren on quality education and businesses.

Vice Chancellor of Bayero University, Professor Abubakar Adamu Rasheed described Khalifah Rabi'u as a leading benefactor, founder and supporter of Bayero University Centre for Qur'anic Studies; the Centre he described as the key solution to many problems bedevilling Africa.

Professor Rasheed said Bayero University Centre for Qur'anic Studies was the sole organizer of the conference, appealing to government especially that of northern states to support the centre towards tackling socio-economic problems bedevilling the region especially the insurgency.

Presenting the lead paper, Dr. Ahmad Furaih of the UmmulQura University, Makkah, Saudi Arabia, congratulated Bayero University for its deep thinking to empower memorisers of the Holy Qur'an through establishing Centre for Qur'anic Studies. He advised parents and stakeholders to give preference to the study and memorisation of the Holy Qur'an.

Speaking, Khalifa Ishaq Rabi'u called for the unity of Muslims irrespective of different ideologies, saying that Muslims wherever they are should respect one another. He thanked Bayero University for the honour done to him.

BUK Wins Oxonia University Network Best Conference Paper Award

The Oxonia University Network has announced Bayero University as winner of one of the two prestigious awards at its inaugural Research Enterprise, Innovation and Entrepreneurship International Conference, organised by University of Oxford in collaboration with Bayero University, Kano from 3rd to 5th August, 2015.
