BUK Commissions New Digital Radio Studios

By Nura Garba

Bayero University, Kano's modern digital radio studio in the Faculty of Communication was commissioned on Wednesday, 19th February, 2020 by Chiroman Kano, Alhaji Nasiru Ado Bayero.

The digital FM Radio, which operates on 98.9 Frequency Modulation Band, is the first of its kind installed in Nigeria's tertiary institutions with equipment of international standards. It has three digital studios that can operate at different times.

In his address, the Vice Chancellor, Professor Muhammad Yahuza Bello, said in BUK, "we are committed to offering quality training and research in broadcasting and Mass Communication in general." He said in the last four years, the University management has not only consolidated on its effort but moved on to revolutionize the study of broadcasting through construction and equipping of a new studio complex for the Digital BUK FM Radio".

According to the Vice Chancellor, the station will be supported by the University to offer quality and innovative programming in line with the National Broadcasting Code and internal ethical regulatory framework. "We are confident that our students who will be trained in broadcasting through the BUK FM radio and BUK TV will be eminently equipped with the skills of modern broadcasting to serve as beacons of renewal in the industry," Prof. Bello added.

Earlier speaking, the Chairman of the Faculty of Communication MacArthur Grant Implementation Committee, Professor Umaru Pate, said through the Mac Arthur Grant, the Faculty was able to procure, install and start operating a digital station, thereby helping it to migrate from analogue broadcast training to digital broadcast services and training.

“We are hopeful that the radio will renew its services to the campus, the surrounding communities and give our students the required platform to learn and engage in practical investigative and data driven journalism and much more,” Prof Pate said.

Presenting a keynote speech titled: From Nothing Casting to Narrowcasting and Now Digital Broadcasting: The Metamorphosis of Campus Broadcasting in Nigeria, Professor Ralph Akinfeleye of the University of Lagos gave a historical background of campus broadcasting in Nigeria, which, he said, had started in 1970's but became rigorous in 1980. He said the University of Lagos initiated it, followed by other universities including but not limited to BUK, UNN, UNIMAID and LASU.

Prof. Akinfeleye outlined some imperatives for an ideal campus radio station to thrive. He said the Campus Radio should remain the training centre for students of Mass Communication and other related disciplines such as Creative Arts, Law, Engineering, the English Language and many others.

He said the Campus Radio must be socially responsible to the society it serves and must cover free of charge all official university events such as convocations, inaugural lectures, orientations for new students, research activities and management activities and parents forty if any.

Prof Akinfeleye further advised the FM Station to continue to promote a diversity of editorial content and programme types reflecting the variety of its audience.

The Chairman of the occasion and Chiroman Kano, Alhaji Nasiru Ado Bayero, congratulated Bayero University and the Faculty of Communication for installing one of the finest digital broadcast equipment. He said it would be a strategic avenue for training young students to become professional journalists who will revolutionize the journalism industry.

The Director, Africa Office, Mac Arthur Foundation, Dr. Kole Shettima, said Mac Arthur was happy to be associated with BUK, saying that its relationship with the University dated many years ago, right from the time of late Professor Musa Abdullahi, a former Vice Chancellor. He said the secret of BUK's success with the foundation was the quality of its leadership.

The Dean, Faculty of communication, Professor Mustapha Nasir Malam expressed appreciation to all the dignitaries that made the ceremony a success and said the Faculty would continue to be training professionals in the media industry.

Inaugurating the new Council on Monday, 27th January, 2020, the Chairman of the Shura, Professor Ahmed Rufa'i Mohammed, appreciated the outgoing exco's for their commitment to the course of the Muslim Forum.

He said because of the previous commitment and doggedness, they were able to achieve quite a number of things which included review of the Forum's constitution, construction of a new library structure and a functioning newsletter that informs the Muslim community about the activities of the Forum and other news related to Islam and the Ummah in general.

Professor Mohammed urged the new exco's to, at least, be as committed as the previous one adding that they were lucky to have the immediate past Ameer and Secretary as part of them as some ex-officio, which should provide an opportunity for continuity.

He congratulated the newly inaugurated exco's and prayed to Almighty Allah to guide them in carrying out their responsibilities towards moving the Muslim Forum forward.

On his part, the former Ameer of the Muslim Forum, Professor Musa Muhammad Borodo, said the Forum's constitution, which was reviewed and approved by the Shura Council last year, provided two-year tenure for the exco's which could be renewed only once.

The new executives of Muslim Forum BUK shortly after their inauguration

2020, and the new Shura Council will also come to effect on 28th June, 2020, as far the spirit of the constitution is concerned.”

Professor Borodo said over the last four years, the previous exco tried and worked according to the objectives of the Forum and that helped them to establish think tank committees and implement a number of projects.

He called on the new exco to look at the handover notes with a view to addressing some challenges identified by the outgoing one and to reconstitute the Forum's committees, work with them as they were central to the success achieved by the outgoing exco.

The newly inaugurated Ameer, Dr. Nu'uman Habib, thanked the Shura Council and the former exco for the confidence in them to lead the Muslim Forum.

He said, "I am happy the new exco are standing on the shoulders of the giants. We are very lucky that the constitution has provided that the outgoing Ameer and Secretary General are part of the new exco."

Dr. Habib prayed to Allah to give the new exco the strength to carry out the responsibilities placed on them. He also pledged to continue from where the outgoing exco had stopped, to consolidate what they had achieved and to move the Muslim Forum to higher level.

The other members of the new exco are Dr. Idris Dauda Adamu (Na'ibul Ameer), Dr. Ahmad Muhammad Tsauni (Fin. Secretary), M. Kabir Wali (Treasurer), Dr. Ibrahim Siraj (PRO New Campus) and Dr. Umar Ibrahim Gaya (PRO Old Campus), M. Adamu Aminu (Internal Auditor), Barr. Umar Tukur (Legal Adviser), Dr. Nura Ibrahim (Sec. Uni.
